

Bobby, the CyberSlayer

Setting

The future, a major city

Rivalry - between Search Engines who have become sentient and the people

Want people to not think so they can be enslaved and serve the search engines through consumerism

Dystopia

Characters:

Darth Google - Villain: Powerful, Know-it-All, Bully, Demanding

Bing - Henchmen: Dumb, doesn't know much, moves slowly

Yahoo - Henchman: Random answers to questions, Sell-out

Bobby, the CyberSlayer - Our Hero: bibliophile, traditional, intelligent, wise, (Yoda?)

Conflict:

Bring down the search engines, restore thought, memory, and knowledge to the people

Will do that by: Read or throw knowledge at the search engines

Narrator: In a time, in the near future, technology rules the land. Google is the superior power in the former United States which is now known as Cipherstan. Books out have been outlawed in the land to weaken thought among the people and keep the power with the search engines, who have become sentient.

Establishing shot: Yahoo and Bing are at computers dramatically lit

Yahoo: So Bing, looks like Bill Gates just logged on. He's selling his My Little Pony Collection on Ebay.

Bing: I got one, too, Yahoo. Robert Downey Jr is online. He wants to go to England; I'll send him directions to Tahiti.

Yahoo: Wait, GOOGLE! Bob Smith is online. He's ordering . . . A BOOK!

Google: What? How outdated! Seize him! Seize the book! Bring him to me!

Bing: To the Winnebago!

Scene: outside, a drone or boeobot with a camera is watching the hero read a book under a tree.

Change angle: we see the henchmen come from behind a tree and grab the hero

Bob: [reading aloud] "I come into the presence of still water.
And I feel above me the day-blind stars waiting for their light. For a time
I rest in the grace of the world, and am free."

Yahoo: We got him!

Bing: Let's order some pizza from the ice cream truck!

The hero takes off running; chase scene ensues. Hero throws a book at Bing, knocking him down.

Bob: Why are you after me?

Yahoo: I will tell you for fifty dollars.

Bob: I don't have any money on me, but I have this 'golden' bulldozer.

Yahoo: I'll take it! We are after you because you ordered a book online - and no one is allowed to read here. I am supposed to take you to our boss.

Bob: Give me the directions, I'll go myself.

Yahoo: You're just going to leave me here?

Bob: I prefer to do this journey alone. (dramatic turn toward camera)

Journey montage

Bob arrives at Lair.

Google: [slow clap] What took you so long?

Bob: I stopped to read a book.

Google: Ok, now I have to hurt you.

Bob: I would hurt you, but you have no feelings.

Google: You should use the internet for information, not books! I am reliable! I am fast! I AM THE INFORMATION!

I am superior to pen and paper!

Bob: I will not follow the horde! Books help me think for myself, they keep us from turning into mindless zombies!

Google: YOU LIVE IN UNDER MY ROOF, YOU LIVE UNDER MY RULES!

Bob: The books were here before you! I WILL RESPECT MY ELDERS! $A^2 + B^2 = C^2$

Google: What?

Bob: Imaginary less than three pi!

Google: That doesn't make sense.

Bob: Subjects and Verbs must agree! In 1492, Columbus sailed the ocean blue! TAHITI IS NOT IN EUROPE!

Google: I'm freezing! I'm crashing! Steve Jobs, save me!

Bob: THE EARTH...IS... ROUND! CARS ARE POWERED BY DINOSAURS!

Google: Your search did not match any documents. Make sure all words are spelled correctly.

Bob: Guess it's time to get pizza from the ice cream truck and read my Book.

The end.